ABOUT THE BUILDER

Joseph Centola, President of H. J. Centola & Sons, is the second generation of a family of fine local craftsman. Over fifty years ago his father, Henry, started the business remodeling and building quality homes for young families.

Henry believed if you could build a home with quality materials, pay close attention to detail and listen closely to your customers, you'd be proud of what you build, and make a lot of new homeowners happy along the way. Fifty years later, we still do.

Today H. J. Centola & Sons is a leading builder of Quality Crafted Homes in the Metrowest area of Boston. We emphasize every aspect of the building process from design and site planning, to detailing, finishes, and daily onsite job supervision. So when the key to one of our beautiful homes is handed over to you . . . . you'll know it's ready to be lived in, "We Guarantee It!"

"Our goal is to make the experience of new homeownership as easy, rewarding and as enjoyable as possible."

Sincerely,
